How do I apply to access medical records?

A valid application requires:

Written application
All applications must be made in writing and have enough information for us to find the correct medical record. You can fill in an Application Form or write a letter.

Identification
Photo identification that shows your signature, eg a photocopy of a driver's licence or passport must be sent with your application.

What happens next?
You will receive a letter acknowledging receipt of your request.

A formal decision letter will be provided no later than 30 days from receipt of a valid request. This may be subject to extensions permitted under the FOI Act of which you will be notified.

This letter will also include the access charges.

Will I get all the records?
Some information may be restricted according to the Exemptions outlined in the FOI Act. This may include information that relates to the personal affairs of a person other than the patient, or information obtained in confidence.

Most FOI applications are straightforward with no restrictions to information applied.

Do I have the right to access information?
The hospital must take reasonable steps to be satisfied that the applicant has the “right to access” the medical records. We have a duty to protect the privacy of personal information.

If the Applicant is NOT the patient and the patient is:

Over 18 years of age
It is preferable for the patient to apply for access to their own medical record. If this is not possible written authority from the patient will be required. Where the patient is not able to provide authority we require evidence that you have the “right to access” the information eg Power of Attorney (medical) or Guardianship documents.

16 – 18 years of age
It is preferable for the patient to apply for access to their own medical record. In recognition of a young person’s evolving competence and right to privacy, the RCH policy is to obtain consent from the young person.

The following are some other situations where we will require additional information:

Name change
If you are requesting your own records and have changed your name, include documentation showing the change of name, eg copy of marriage certificate.

Family Court Orders
If there are current Family Court Orders in place, a copy of the order should be provided.

Requesting records of a deceased patient
Evidence that you are the next of kin or written authority from the next of kin.

Authorising others to request records
You can authorise another person (eg TAC, solicitor) to make a request on your behalf. If you want someone to make a request on your behalf, you must give them your written authorisation for us to release the information to them.
