- AMES Disability Action Group (KK).

Background

2016 saw the last children released from held detention; the arrival of refugees from Syria and Iraq, and the processing of asylum seeker protection claims restart; with significant impact on our patients, clinical service delivery and broader work within Immigrant Health. Our focus throughout the year has been on clinical care, education, capacity building, research and policy work to promote the health of children and families who are refugee background or seeking asylum.

During 2015-2016 the most frequent source countries for refugees and asylum seekers to Australia were:

- Offshore program Iraq, Syria, Burma (Myanmar), Afghanistan, Congo (DRC)
- People in community detention Iran, Sri Lanka, 'Stateless'¹, Iraq, and Vietnam.

Key policy changes influencing our work in 2016 included:

- Release of all remaining children and their families from the Melbourne Immigration Transit Accommodation (MITA) into community detention (CD) in early April 2016
- Ongoing preparation for, and now response to, the Syrian/Iraqi refugee intake, with increasing numbers of people arriving in the second half of 2016
- Increasing numbers of children arriving with complex medical needs and disability
- The impact of the February Australian High Court decision and the Papua New Guinea Supreme Court decision in April regarding regional processing centres (RPC)
- Commonwealth 'No Jab, No Pay' and Victorian 'No Jab, No Play' legislation regarding early childhood immunisation requirements and Centrelink payments
- The November 2016 announcement of resettlement in the United States for people in the RPC, and the impact for our patients who have spent time in Nauru.

We remain involved in policy work at local, state and Commonwealth level, including through the Victorian Refugee Health Network (VRHN), the (associated) immunisation working group, and advisory committees. Our main areas of focus have been immunisation, and finalising the 2016 Australasian Society for Infectious Diseases and Refugee Health Network of Australia (ASID/RHeaNA) guidelines on post-arrival refugee health screening. In the early part of the year, a difficult component of our work was preparation for the Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse.

We have continued our clinical work across RCH immigrant health clinic (IHC), RCH tuberculosis (TB) clinic, coHealth in the western region, and EACH community health centre in the eastern region. We have also started a collaborative partnership with Northern Health, commencing an outreach clinic at the Craigieburn Health Service. Within RCH, the introduction of a new electronic medical record system in May 2016- EPIC - changed workflow, as we learned how to integrate this system into our clinical care.

Key clinical areas include asylum seeker healthcare, disability and child development, and mental health. We look forward to working with the Syrian/Iraqi cohorts and renewing our focus on health screening and catchup immunisation in the months to come.

Service model

The immigrant health service includes a weekly outpatient clinic, inpatient and outpatient consultations, and telephone and email advice. The clinic provides post-arrival health (including dental) screening and immunisation catch-up where needed, and a tertiary consultation service on paediatric refugee health issues.

Our clinic model includes the use of the CAReHR electronic health record in certain clinics, integrated use of interpreting services, picture-based prescribing where needed, contact with schools by the team's resident teacher, and fortnightly audit meetings alternating with fortnightly mental health secondary consult meetings for children with significant mental health problems.

The Immigrant Health Service effectively provides specialist paediatric refugee health services in the west (CoHealth Joslin clinic in West Footscray), in the east (EACH Community Health Service in Ringwood), and in the north, through a new partnership with Northern Health, with an outreach clinic at Craigieburn Health Services. Monash Health provides care in the southeast. The Immigrant Health Fellows also work in the fortnightly RCH tuberculosis clinic.

Staff

In 2016, the immigrant health team consisted of four consultants: Dr Georgie Paxton, Dr Hamish Graham, Dr Shidan Tosif, and Dr Jane Standish (covering Dr Andrea Smith).

Dr Karen Kiang continued in the role as an immigrant health fellow (0.5 EFT) from last year. Dr Sophie Oldfield commenced in February 2015 as a second fellow providing support at coHealth and the RCH TB clinic, also stepping into RCH IHC from September 2016. Both fellows worked at Craigieburn Health Services.

Both leave and the new electronic health record have affected clinic numbers. Hamish and Shidan have had extended periods of leave related to international health work, and Sophie has been on unpaid leave across April - May 2016.

Demographics

Clinic attendance rates were 87% (793 attendances of 910 bookings)

We saw children and young people from 32 countries of birth, most commonly from (in order) Iran, Syria, Sudan, Burma, Iraq, Malaysia, Afghanistan, Ethiopia, Somalia and Thailand, and Australian-born children from refugee background families

We saw families speaking 33 languages, most commonly Arabic languages (Arabic, Assyrian, Chaldean – 21%), Farsi (20%), English (20%), Burmese languages (Karen, Chin dialects, Burmese – 10%), Somali (7%), Dinka (5%), Oromo and Tigrinya

Interpreters assisted with 78% of consultations - interpreting requirements have been steady around 80% for 3 years (85% in 2015, 80% in 2014) and increased from a nadir (68%) in 2013.

Other clinical activities

In addition, we have provided more than 100 clinical consultations in 2016

- Hospital inpatient consultations: 12 (KK, GP)
- Telephone and email consultations
 - Nurses (Refugee Health and schools): at least 30 with liaison
 - Medical practitioners (GPs, IHMS, and specialists) at least 30 with liaison
 - Case Managers (Settlement and Refugee Minor Program) at lest 20
- Care team meetings with the Department of Immigration and Border Protection (DIBP) and the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) around 10.

Current clinical issues

A large proportion of our clinical time was directed towards asylum seeker children and new arrival children from Syria/Iraq with complex disability. The children seen in Immigrant health clinic have had increasingly complex health issues, which, coupled with a shift to seeing individual patients (rather than large new arrival family groups), has changed clinic workflow. Throughout the year we have worked closely with our colleagues in the settlement sector and with welfare support teams within schools.

Mental health and education secondary consultation - for asylum seeker patients, the length of held detention, impact of ongoing uncertainty, and delays in processing protection claims have been associated with complex mental health issues and substantial impact on families. The secondary mental health consultations established in 2013 have been an important source of support for our team in 2016, and we are grateful to Dr. Sanjay Patel from Psychiatry, and Dr. Rowena Conroy from psychology for their advice and supervision. The presence of Erin O'Rourke, a lead teacher from the RCH Education Institute, has been essential for enhanced follow up and discussion of issues related to education.

Dental review and oral health promotion – Tatiana Polizzi, the dental therapist with Immigrant Health team, has continued to see all new patients for assessment and oral health promotion, and link them with dental services where needed. This has been an important service through 2016, as a large proportion of our patients have needed dental care.

Preparation for the Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse - in early 2016, the hospital provided documentation arising from clinical care where child protection concerns had been raised in relation to held detention.

Education and presentations

In 2016, we delivered 54 education sessions to approximately 2000 participants from health, education, and community organisations on a diverse range of topics. This figure includes 32 external presentations across metropolitan Melbourne and a program of ongoing education around working with CALD communities for RCH Volunteers and Nurses, delivered by our research nurse Katrina Sangster, who was also based at ISIS Hoppers Crossing in a refugee health nurse position for most of the year.

Key education sessions and presentations included:

- Monash University Refugee Health Master of Nursing paediatric unit content update on paediatric refugee health and access to child health services (ST)
- Victorian Refugee Health Network (VRHN) webinar on paediatric refugee health and access to child health services (KK)
- Northwest Melbourne PHN GP education initiative for GP practices about refugee health (SO, KK)
- 3 invited conference presentations
 - o Children and Families Across Borders, Melbourne, April 2016 (GP)
 - o Global Ideas Forum, Melbourne, August 2016 (GP)
 - o Australasian College of Legal Medicine, Melbourne, October 2016 (GP)
- Education on working with CALD families for RCH volunteers (KS, delivered quarterly at induction of all new RCH volunteers)
- Education for RCH nursing staff on working with CALD families, and working effectively with interpreters (KS, delivered quarterly).

Capacity building

Linking with other services – a substantial part of our work in 2016 has been supporting primary care capacity in refugee and asylum seeker health, particularly in the Northern region, in anticipation of (and response to) the Syrian and Iraqi arrivals.

Key initiatives include:

Craigieburn Health Services (Northern Health) – Nov 2016 (KK, SO) development of a new paediatric refugee health outreach clinic in partnership with Northern Health

VRHN paediatric webinar - February (KK)

Refugee Health Matters (RHM) – is a short newsletter from the Refugee Health Fellows to update skills and knowledge in GPs and nurses

- RHM updated refugee health assessment Apr 2016
- RHM chronic pain Oct 2016
- Articles on vitamin D, mental health, and infectious diseases being drafted

Health Pathways - Eastern Melbourne PHN - submitted Aug 2016 (KK, GP)

- Paediatric refugee health
- Refugee health assessment

Northwest Melbourne PHN – (SO, KK) developing a GP education curriculum and practice visits by the fellows

Circulation of a 'letter of introduction' to GP practices in the Northern and Western region Mar 2016 (KK) to introduce the refugee health fellows to GPs, nurses, and practice managers. This was circulated through the NW Melbourne PHN and Eastern Melbourne PHN practices, and to individual practices with bilingual doctors

Phone calls to bilingual GP practices in the Northern region Aug-Sep 2016 (SO) to introduce GP practices to the refugee health fellows, connect them to available resources, and offer education sessions

Immunisation working group – has been an effective network of providers linking refugee and asylum seeker health and immunisation catch-up and service delivery

Clinical consultations – are an ongoing means of building connections - as above

Workforce development - majority of the 12 paediatric refugee services across Victoria are run by paediatricians who have worked with the RCH immigrant health service - see: http://www.rch.org.au/immigranthealth/clinical/Caseworker_Resources/#Resources.

Health services improvement within RCH

- Audit of interpreter services use and clinical outcomes at RCH (KS, KK, GP)
- Audit of RCH outpatient waitlist and impact on low English proficiency patients (KK, GP)
- Business case and background research in order to build translated appointment letters and SMS reminders directly into the RCH EMR EPIC (KK, GP).

Policy

RCH Immigrant Health has provided input into policy related to refugee and asylum seeker child health in multiple areas – immunisation, tuberculosis screening, offshore health screening, onshore health screening, the response to the Syrian intake, data and ascertainment, and child protection.

Key contributions include:

ASID/RHeaNA Refugee health screening guidelines – released April 2016. Sections authored by, or having significant input from RCH Immigrant Health: introduction, vitamin D, immunisation skin infections, prevalence, mental health (including child development); contributions: women's health, tuberculosis; also editing and review.

Immunisation including work to detail the impact of the Commonwealth 'No Jab, No Pay' and Victorian 'No Jab, No Play' legislation. This body of work has largely been completed through the VRHN immunisation working group. Output includes:

- Policy briefing 'No Jab, No Pay' and implications for service providers and communities Mar 2016
- Policy briefing ACIR Issues Arising Jun 2016

Future directions

- Expanding education provision as settlement of Syrian and Iraqi refugees progresses
- Expanding regional education provision anticipated changes related to Safe Haven Enterprise Visas
- Adapting to the roll-out of the NDIS, and informing work on CALD communities and new arrivals referred to NDIS
- Evaluation of Victorian administrative datasets in relation to Refugee and Asylum seeker health (GP, Sabbatical 2016 Victorian Department of Health)
- Hospitals, Settlement and Immigration linkage project, for progress in 2017.
- Health systems patient satisfaction, interpreter access, length of stay, GP details (KK, Dr Rachel Heenan (fellow 2017)
- Evaluation of Schistosoma management (Dr Tom Volkman (fellow 2017) VC, KK, GP)
- Resilience in Children NHMRC grant based at MCRI
- Framework for assessing refugee background children with learning issues (GP, HG, ST, KK and collaboration with Dr Ida Kaplan and Dr Yvonne Stolk, VFST and Dr Rowena Conroy, RCH)
- Developing pathways for specialist assessment for all unaccompanied minors in Victoria (we remain determined!)

On behalf of RCH Immigrant health - thank-you to our patients and their families for working with our service and helping us to understand more about health and healthcare; we are indebted to our interpreting colleagues, and would like to formally acknowledge their skills, professionalism, support, and essential contribution to our work; and we would like to thank our mental health colleagues for their support and advice. We are grateful to the Department of General Medicine, and to the Department of Health, Victoria, who provide funding for our service.
