Functional assessment

Consider level of function, and clarify how the disability affects the person in the following domains:

For all categories - consider need for assessment, assistance, supervision, and equipment. Also consider whether services will prevent further deterioration/worsening of function, and ensure this is clear. Clarify individual/family/carer priorities.

1. Mobility and motor skills (walking, transfers, community access)
2. Communication (language, sign, hearing, swallowing)
3. Social interaction (friends, community, coping with emotions, behavioural concerns)
4. Learning/cognition (intellectual function, memory, executive function)
5. Self-care/activities of daily living (washing, dressing, toileting/continence, protective behaviours/sexual health, sleep related, nutrition, respite needs)
6. Self-management (employment, meaningful activities, money, household management, service access, transport, case coordination)

Also consider carer’s needs, siblings needs, mental health, psychological issues, preventive care to support family integrity and care provision.

Clarify language service support needs, noting language, interpreter requirement
