

2025 Nursing Research and Clinical Innovations Symposium: Rapid Round of Research (R3) Scoring Rubric

Presenter _____					Score
Timekeeping	0 The presentation is < 2.15 minutes or > 3.45 mins	1 The presentation is 2.15 minutes to 2.30 minutes or 3.30 to 3.45 mins	2 The presentation is 2.30 minutes to 2.45 minutes or 3.15 to 3.30 mins	3 The presentation is 3 minutes (give or take 15 seconds).
Introduction/Setting the scene	0 Poor description of what is known about the topic/clinical issue and/or unclear rationale for the research/innovation	1 to 2 Inadequate explanation of what is known about the topic/clinical issue and/or unclear rationale for the research/innovation	3 to 4 Clear explanation of what is known about the topic/clinical issue with a sound rationale for the research/innovation	5 Outstanding explanation of what is known about the topic/clinical issue with a strong rationale for the research/innovation
Results/Innovation outcome	0 The explanation of the results/innovation outcome is poorly described with poor alignment to the introduction. The key message is not evident.	1 to 2 There is some description of the results/innovation with some alignment with the introduction. The key message is not clear.	3 to 4 The results/innovation outcome is clearly explained and is consistent with the introduction. The key message is clear.	5 The explanation of the results/innovation outcome is exceptional with strong alignment to the introduction. The key message is exceptional.
Presentation Style	0 Language is inappropriate and poorly tailored for the specific audience. Presentation style lacks clarity and flow. The 'one slide' does not complement the content delivery in any way. The presenter fails to connect with the audience in any way (e.g. eye contact, tone of voice).	1 to 2 Language mostly tailored for the specific audience; however, more appropriate language could be used. Presentation style lacks clarity and flow. The 'one slide' inadequately complements content delivery. The presenter does little to connect with the audience (e.g. eye contact, tone of voice).	3 to 5 Language clear, appropriate and tailored for the audience. Sound presentation style: however, could be more engaging. The 'one slide' complements content delivery and enhances the key message. The presenter connects well with the audience (e.g. eye contact, tone of voice).	6 to 7 Language clear, appropriate and expertly tailored for the audience. Exceptional presentation style: clear, engaging and flows easily. Exceptional 'one slide' that complements content delivery and enhances the key message. The presenter does an outstanding job of connecting with and engaging the audience (e.g. eye contact, tone of voice).
TOTAL /20
Comments

Explanation given to presenters

The Rapid Round of Research (R<sup>3</sup>) presentation format is an exciting oral presentation style where presenters have three minutes to communicate their research. In these presentations the goal is to distil the key message of the research in an engaging and impactful manner. Only one PowerPoint slide can be used. No questions will be taken during the presentation. Support from the Nursing Research team is available to help support the development of an R<sup>3</sup> presentation.